Need to evaluate the credibility (trustworthiness) of an online source? Click here for a checklist that rewards or deducts points based on website reliability 	Use the checklist from yesterday to evaluate two news articles that provide health advice. Which article is more reliable, according to the checklist? Click here for article #1 Click here for article #2 	Set yourself up for study success by using Spotify or YouTube to create a playlist of songs that you can listen to while you do schoolwork. Can't work to music? Give white noise or ambient noise a try: Click here for white noise Click here for ambient noise (library edition!) 	There are many words in English that mean more than one thing, so you have to use context clues to figure out which meaning is being referenced in your text. Click here to practice some homonyms Continue with the same sheet to practice homographs and homophones, too! Click here for the answers ☺) 	Imagine that you have the opportunity to share your story by creating a podcast. What would you choose to share? Choose a topic about a hobby, interest, or current event that you are knowledgeable about and plan your podcast below.  Who will you podcast about?: What will you podcast about?: When will your podcast be set?: Why do you want to tell this story?: Where does your story take place?:  After you plan your podcast, record a demo using the voice notes app on your phone or laptop!
