What was the story about? 'The story, 'Are You My Mother?', is about a newly hatched baby bird trying to identify its mother. I enjoyed listening to the story in both English and Spanish.'

Speaking

Click here to draw with Drew and Rosie. In this episode, Drew and Rosie create art for teachers! Let's join them and draw something for our teachers too. After drawing, tell a friend or family member about your artwork and explain why you chose to draw that specific picture.

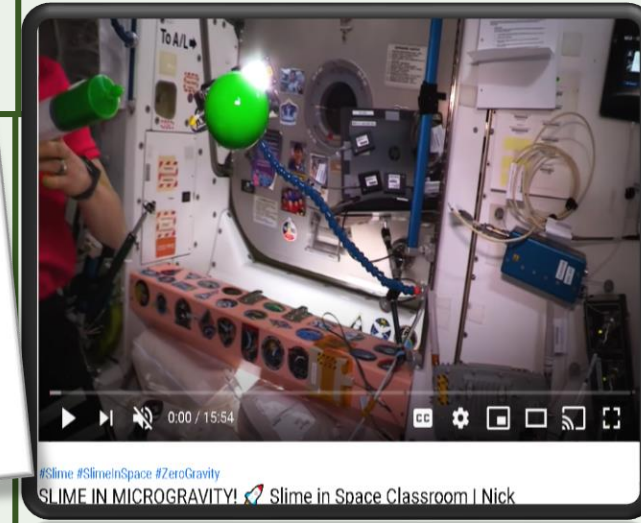

"I used yarn and crayons to create a picture frame for my teacher. Within the frame, I drew a picture of our class, making sure to include each student's name. I believe this drawing will bring joy to my teacher."

Speaking

Click here to discover what happens when slime is taken to space. Share with a family member how the absence of Earth's gravity affects the behavior of ooey-goopy slime..

"In space, everything experiences weightlessness due to the absence of gravitational force. As a result, the slime appears to float in the air, resembling a bubble. Astronauts compared water to slime, observing that slime can change its shape while water tends to move around more."
