Listening

Click here to listen to "Oh, the Places You'll Go!" written by Dr. Seuss and read by Michelle Obama. Reflect on the meaning behind the phrase, 'Kid, you'll move mountains,' and consider what message Dr. Seuss might be conveying.

 What does Dr. Seuss mean by 'Kid, you'll move mountains! Today is your day! Your mountain is waiting. So get on your way!?' I believe it means that children can achieve remarkable things. If you are determined to learn or accomplish something, you can do it. All it takes is practice and perseverance..

Listening

Click here to join Ms. Penny and the KidVision Pre-K Kids on a field trip to a construction site where they learn about the process of constructing a new building. They explore various aspects such as planning, safety, and measuring, and even get hands-on experience with tools. It's an incredible experience!

 "What did you learn, and what was your favorite part?" "I discovered the importance of wearing a hard hat and a bright vest at a construction site. A hard hat protects your head from falling objects, and a bright vest enhances visibility among workers. My favorite part was when the kids were able to explore the machines and learn about their functions."

Speaking
