

Pre-k Choice Board

Listening

Listening

Listening

Listening

Speaking

Speaking

Speaking

Speaking

Click here to meet a boy with feelings so big that they glow from his cheeks, spill out of his eyes, and jump up and down on his chest. Written by Britney Winn Lee and illustrated by Jacob Souva, "The Boy with Big, Big Feelings" is a story about a boy who has an important realization. What does the boy come to understand in the story?

Click here to listen to "My No, No, No Day," written by Rebecca Patterson. In this story, Bella's day doesn't go as planned. It shows us that it's okay to have a bad day sometimes. We learn that it's normal for things not to go your way, and that it's okay when that happens.

Click here to learn English vocabulary about clothes with this fun guessing game. Guess the piece of clothing in the picture before time runs out. Were you able to guess all of them? Which piece of clothing was difficult for you to guess?

Click here to build a house! What type of walls will you choose? Will you add a roof? How about doors and windows? Would you like to add some decorations? Create your house and then share your design with a friend or family member, telling them all about your unique house!

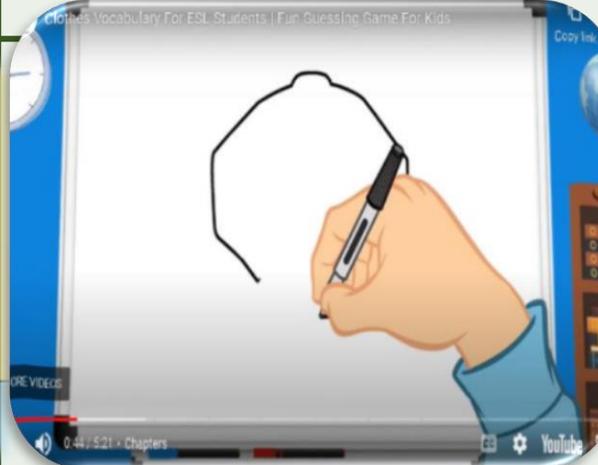

The BOY with BIG, BIG FEELINGS

 What emotions does the boy experience, and what realization does he have about his feelings? The boy has many emotions throughout his experiences. When a loud truck passes by, he cries, and upon hearing a joke, he bursts with joy. Additionally, he empathizes with his loved ones' emotions during their difficult times. The boy attempts to suppress his feelings, but through help, he learns to appreciate his emotions.

 Why is Bella upset, and how does her situation improve? Bella is angry with her brother for crawling around her room and taking her jewelry. Additionally, she's frustrated about having to wear red shoes. It seems like Bella is having a terrible day. Her mom tries to calm her by promising her that the next day will be better. Surprisingly, her mom is right, and the following day is much more enjoyable.

 "I successfully guessed most of the pictures, which included the cap, shirt, socks, shorts, dress, and shoes. However, I was unable to correctly identify the orange hat."

 Here's the corrected text: For my house, I selected a white wall and a golden roof. Additionally, I included two doors and a heart-shaped window. After printing the picture, I shared the details of my design with my mom.