

TALKING POINTS – Tuesday, April 13, 2021

Good evening.

First off, I would like to encourage all SLPS stakeholders to save the date for the second part of our inaugural ABAR—anti-bias, anti-racism—virtual mini conference on April 24th.

The event will feature Jason Reynolds, the National Ambassador for Young People’s Literature and a New York Times best-selling author many times over. Additional details will be announced closer to time.

A few friendly reminders for families ...

We are still accepting students for summer learning.

Visit S-L-P-S-dot-org-slash-summer for details and to sign up. Options include credit recovery, academic enrichment and support for English language learners.

Additionally, pre-kindergarten registration for the 2021-2022 school year is now open! Registration will be by appointment only at Central Office Monday through Friday from 8am to 2pm. Visit the District website to request an appointment.

Finally, we are also accepting enrollment requests for next school year for our new Virtual Learning program at Dunbar, grades K through 6. Visit S-L-P-S-dot-org-slash-virtual-academy for more information.
