As we reflect on the purpose of why we celebrate and highlight the many Contributions and Achievements of African Americans throughout history, we invite our wonderful Shenandoah families to kick-off this celebration with us. Often the recognition of the impact and struggles African Americans have had on society have been overlooked. Our 'For The Love Of History' black history program allows Shenandoah the opportunity to educate and showcase to our staff, students, families and communities the significant role Black people have played in shaping the United States and the world at large, but also showcase .
